Postcard Views: A Walk Down Main Street, Buffalo, New York circa 1910

- Friday, January 25, 2008 -
3:00 – 5:00 p.m.
Andrew L. Bouwhuis Library

At the turn of the 20th century, postcards, “a...product of the merging print technologies and existing postal regulations” became a popular form of communication. Dr. Bieron will discuss how these historic little cards represented Buffalo’s emergence as one of the most “progressive and vibrant cities of its time.”

Faculty, staff & students welcome to attend. Specialty cookies, coffee & tea will be served.

“Show and Tell Feature” --- Bring along postcards from your own collection!
